Academic Programs at Harris-Stowe State University

Harris-Stowe State University offers its students a wide variety of academic opportunities including workshops, institutes, field experiences and course work. Upon request, specifically designed institutes and workshops are made available to interested groups. Most classes, however, are part of baccalaureate degree programs.

The University offers 15 Bachelor of Science degree programs. Each of these degree programs consists of two levels: (1) a lower-division level, which provides a general education foundation, and (2) an upper-division level, consisting of a specific set of professional studies that gives the degree program its name. Below are brief descriptions of the University's academic programs.

General Education Studies

The Harris-Stowe State University general education curriculum serves as the foundation for professional studies and lifelong learning. At the same time, in accordance with the articulation agreement established by the Coordinating Board for Higher Education (CBHE) in Missouri, the University's General Education curriculum is designed to accommodate transfer students. Harris-Stowe offers general education courses that are designed to address crucial academic skills and knowledge areas. The academic skills addressed are oral and written communication skills, higher-order thinking skills, technology and information management skills and valuing skills. These skills are addressed across the curriculum. The knowledge areas covered are the social and behavioral sciences, humanities and fine arts, mathematics and the biological and physical sciences. After completion of the 42-credit hour general education component, students will be able to:

- engage in higher-order thinking;
- communicate effectively in written form;
- communicate effectively in oral form;
- manage information;
- understand the moral and ethical values of a diverse society and understand that many courses of action are guided by value judgments about the way things ought to be;
- understand the ways in which humans have addressed their condition through imaginative work in creative art and speculative thought;
- understand fundamental mathematical concepts; and
- understand the principles of the life and physical sciences.

Anheuser-Busch School of Business

The Harris-Stowe State University Anheuser-Busch School of Business presently offers five Bachelor of Science degrees: (1) Accounting; (2) Business Administration with options in entrepreneurship, management and marketing; (3) Health Care Management; (4) Hospitality and Tourism Management; and (5) Information Sciences and Computer Technology with options in computer studies and management information systems.

Each program area of specialization is based on a comprehensive liberal arts foundation and a well-defined core curriculum. These programs offer the student the opportunity to prepare to enter the business world as a professional. Each area of specialization contains the following components:

- a broad general education base of 42 credit hours of course work in written and oral communication skills, mathematics, natural sciences, social sciences, computing and information technologies, and humanities and fine arts;
- a general business core component;
- a Bachelor of Science program core for each of the degrees and options offered by the School of Business; and
- an internship, which is an essential part of the preparation for a business career. The internship field experience exposes the student to the actual business environment and helps bridge the gap between the classroom and a career in the business world.

The Accounting program prepares students to establish their career in the field of accounting in a private or nonprofit sector, or to continue their education at the master's level to qualify to sit for the CPA exam.

The Business Administration program offers students a broad educational grounding in a wide range of business. The program is primarily designed to provide the student with a solid and well-rounded education in business that prepares them for careers in any business field, and if desired, move on to an advanced degree.

The Business Administration – Accelerated Program/Adult Pathway to Success Program is designed to provide a unique opportunity for adults with a minimum of four years of business experience to complete a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration while working full-time during the day. The program can be completed in as little as 18 months for students who have completed an Associate of Art degree, which meets the Missouri State General Education requirements or completed 60 semester hours from an accredited college or university that can be applied toward Harris-Stowe State University requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration.

The Business Administration program with:

-Entrepreneurship emphasis

This program provides a quality educational program and experience to students interested in owning and managing their own business. The program strives to prepare individuals by providing a curriculum in entrepreneurship as well as in other academic disciplines such as management, marketing, information systems, economics, accounting and finance.

-Management emphasis

This program is designed to prepare students for management and supervisory careers in the private or nonprofit sector, and if desired, for graduate studies.

-Marketing emphasis
